

EDGE PROTECTORS, POLY & PAPER STAPLE CARDS

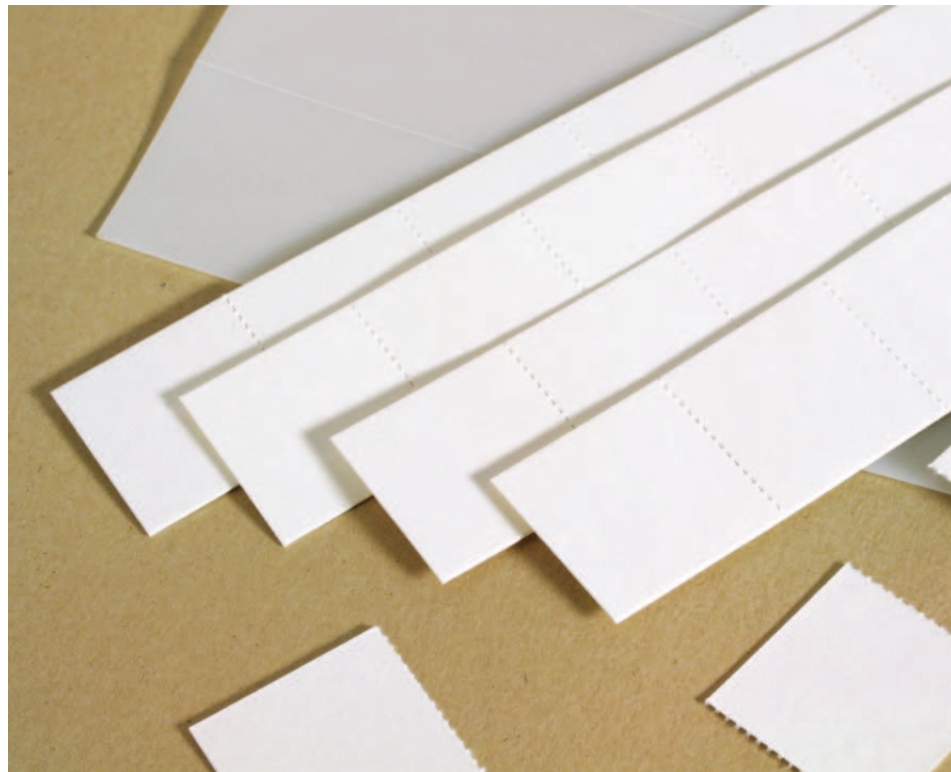

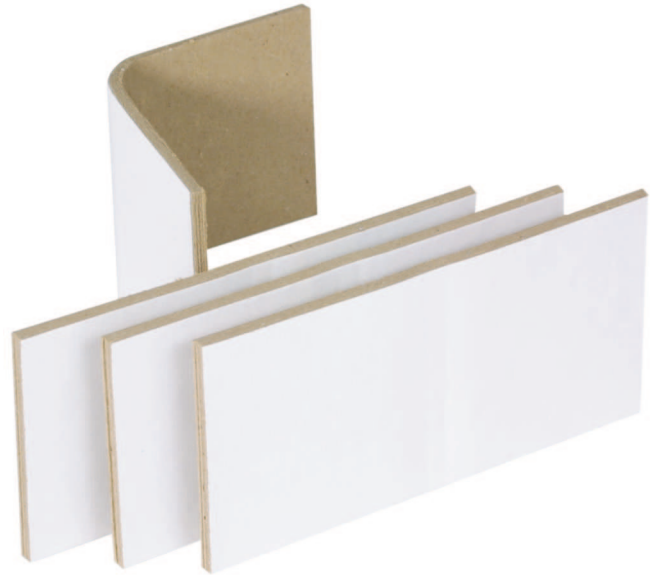

In the multi-billion-dollar North American lumber industry, every detail in the process of getting the product to market, no matter how small, can have a significant impact on the bottom line.

Clever, cost-reducing details is where Seaside comes in, offering two small products that make a big difference.

First, the Edge Protector. This is a special laminated paper product that protects lumber from the strapping used to secure it in bundles.

Secondly, we have Poly and Paper Staple Cards. These small cards are inserted between the staple and the protective wrap around a lift of lumber, and prevent the wrap from tearing away from the staple.

Small products that pay big dividends to our customers.
